INVITATION AND CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

Ever since its origin and later man has enjoyed the natural resources and has adversely affected the environment in due course of civilization and economic growth. The greed beyond the need and the attitude of consumerism of mankind have brought the environment today at a critical juncture. Various anthropogenic activities like urbanization, industrialization, mining, chemical based agriculture, deforestation, habitat destruction, introduction of exotic species, overexploitation etc. have brought us to an alarming stage where there is no point of return without proper conservation strategy.

The environment needs conservation to provide sustainability and survival of man. Keeping the present plight of environment the focus of strategy for betterment has changed from Stockholm to Rio- 2. The present conference being organized in the capital city of Jharkhand, which is very rich in natural resources both above and below the ground, to discuss conservation strategy in context of globalization and local situation ranging from gene to ecosystem.
